Contents
Special Issue ‘Dialectometry’
Edited by John Nerbonne & William A. Kretzschmar Jr

Editorials
In Memoriam Lisa Lena Opas-Hänninen (1957–2013) 1
Dialectometry++
John Nerbonne and William A. Kretzschmar Jr 2

Original Articles
Defining dialect regions with interpretations: Advancing the multidimensional scaling approach
Sheila Embleton, Dorin Urîtescu and Eric S. Wheeler 13
‘DiaTech’: A new tool for dialectology
Gotzon Aurrekoetxea, Karmele Fernandez-Aguirre, Jesús Rubio, Borja Ruiz and Jon Sánchez 23
Analyzing phonetic variation in the traditional English dialects: Simultaneously clustering dialects and phonetic features
Martijn Wieling, Robert G. Shackleton Jr and John Nerbonne 31
Variation of verbal constructions in Estonian dialects
Kristel Uiboaed, Cornelius Hasselblatt, Liina Lindström, Kadri Muischnek and John Nerbonne 42
Lexical meaning and spatial distribution. Evidence from geostatistical dialectometry
Simon Pickl 63
A statistical comparison of regional phonetic and lexical variation in American English
Jack Grieve 82
Detecting structures in linguistic maps—Fuzzy clustering for pattern recognition in geostatistical dialectometry
Simon Pröll 108
Linguistic advergence and divergence in north-western Catalan: A dialectometric investigation of dialect leveling and border effects
Esteve Valls, Martijn Wieling and John Nerbonne 119
Dynamic cartography with diachronic data: Dialectal stratigraphy
Maria-Pilar Perea

Synchronic patterns of Tuscan phonetic variation and diachronic change: Evidence from a dialectometric study
Simone Monemagni, Martijn Wieling, Bob de Jonge and John Nerbonne

Scaled measurement of geographic and social speech data
William A. Kretzschmar Jr, Brendan A. Kretzschmar and Irene M. Brockman